Nanolive Demo Unit for Sale

Barnett Technical Services has decided to end its relationship with Nanolive. This decision comes entirely for business-related reasons – the Nanolive 3D Cell Explorer allows you to obtain high-quality measurements on cells and other similar samples.

As a result of this decision, we are selling our demo unit at a significant discount. This system is in excellent condition and has been used for approximately 100 hours.

The normal price for this system (including shipping) is ~$22,500. We are offering this system at a 30% discount for a sale price of $15,750. This is a first come, first served opportunity and the system is available for immediate delivery.

Please contact us at the coordinates above for more information.
